JUANITA CAMPBELL PAGE

July 17, 1923 – April 30, 2022

Juanita Campbell Page was the first of six children born to Ed and Pearlie Little Campbell. She was born July 17, 1923, in Chesterfield, South Carolina. Predeceased by her parents and all but one sibling, she departed this life on April 30, 2022, after a brief illness.

All of the living siblings moved away from Chesterfield, SC, though their relationship to their family home and the community endured over the years. Juanita was the first to leave for Durham, NC in search of work. She took a job in a dry-cleaning establishment and lived with her uncle. She met and fell in love with Burly Randolph Page who came from a well-established Black family in Durham. They married during the height of World War II. Burly enlisted in the Army and was sent to Tuskegee, Alabama to train in the program for Black airmen.

Following military service Juanita and Burly started their family, which grew to include two daughters and two sons. Juanita instilled in her children by way of living example the values and qualities of love, faith, compassion, perseverance, hope, prudence, and fairness. She compensated for her basic formal education by providing her children with spiritual teachings and strong faith in order to protect the integrity of the family and keep it together through very difficult conditions.

Juanita attended Mount Vernon Baptist Church in Durham, where she was a devoted member for over 50 years. She was recently honored there for her longtime membership and for being a matriarch of the church community.

Juanita and Burly were strong proponents of the Black ethos, "advancement through education". While their respective family conditions and the segregated school systems in America did not prepare them for higher education, education would be a priority for their children. Each of their children were honor graduates from high school. They also graduated with high honors from undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools.

GOD CAN MOVE YOUR MOUNTAIN

*When things seem so impossible
And life's so hard to bear,
God can move your mountain
Before you reach despair.*

*So, keep on climbing higher,
Be patient while you wait.
For God is never early
And also never late.*

-Helen Parker

*He'll never leave you or forsake you
Trust Him all the way.
Be anxious, then for nothing
And never cease to pray.*

*The God of my rock; In Him will I trust:
He is my shield and the Horn of my salvation.
-2 Sam 22:3.*
